Mr. Trigilio, age 41, previously served in various leadership roles at Obsidian Therapeutics, Inc., a biotechnology company, from April 2024 to January 2026, including most recently as its Chief Financial and Operating Officer, where he was responsible for finance and accounting, business development, investor relations and program management. Prior to that, he served as the Chief Financial Officer at Cullinan Therapeutics, Inc. (Nasdaq: CGEM), a biopharmaceutical company, from September 2020 to March 2024. Before joining Cullinan Therapeutics, Inc., Mr. Trigilio served in a variety of financial, strategic and business development roles at numerous biotech companies, including Amylyx Pharmaceuticals, Inc. and Alexion Pharmaceuticals, Inc., after beginning his career in investment banking. Mr. Trigilio received his M.B.A. from Columbia Business School and his B.A. in Industrial and Labor Relations from Cornell University.

In connection with Mr. Trigilio’s appointment as Chief Financial Officer, the Company entered into an employment agreement with Mr. Trigilio, effective as of the Effective Date (the “Employment Agreement”). Pursuant to the Employment Agreement, Mr. Trigilio will receive an annual base salary of $515,000 and will be eligible to participate in the Company’s Corporate Achievement Goals Plan with an initial target annual cash bonus opportunity equal to 40% of his base salary. In addition, he will receive (i) an initial equity grant of 30,000 performance units, which will vest based on achievement of stock price hurdles over a performance period beginning on the Effective Date and ending on the earlier of (A) May 18, 2026 or (B) the Company’s 2026 annual meeting of stockholders, and (ii) an annual equity grant at the time annual grants are made in 2026 having a value approximately equivalent to 180,000, multiplied by the closing price of the Company’s common stock on the Effective Date.

The Employment Agreement also provides that, upon a termination by the Company without Cause or by Mr. Trigilio for Good Reason (each as defined in the Employment Agreement), subject to his execution of release of claims, Mr. Trigilio would receive (i) cash severance equal to 0.75 times his base salary, (ii) a pro-rated annual bonus based on actual performance, and (iii) subsidized continued health benefit coverage and outplacement services for nine months. If such termination occurs within the period beginning two months prior and ending 12 months after a change of control of the Company, Mr. Trigilio would instead receive (i) a lump sum cash payment equal to 1.5 times the sum of his base salary and target annual bonus, (ii) any earned but unpaid prior-year annual bonus, (iii) subsidized continued health benefit coverage for up to 18 months, (iv) outplacement benefits for up to 12 months, and (iv) accelerated vesting of Mr. Trigilio’s outstanding equity awards (subject to actual performance for any performance-based awards).

The Employment Agreement also obligates Mr. Trigilio to sign and comply with the Company’s standard confidentiality and inventions assignment agreement. The Company has also entered into its standard indemnity agreement with Mr. Trigilio, a form of which was previously filed as Exhibit 10.2 to the Company’s Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the quarter ended June 30, 2025, which was filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission on August 13, 2025.

Other potential risks to XOMA Royalty meeting these expectations are described in more detail in XOMA Royalty’s most recent filing on Form 10-Q and in other filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission. Consider such risks carefully when considering XOMA Royalty’s prospects. Any forward-looking statement in this press release represents XOMA Royalty’s beliefs and assumptions only as of the date of this press release and should not be relied upon as representing its views as of any subsequent date.
